VIRTULLEUM

Embark on your own, individual town expedition!

The mere thought of municipal history bores you out of your mind?

The VIRTULLEUM app is as innovative as it is entertaining. It proves that the origin and development of a town can be both interesting and highly inspiring for the present and future.

Are you ready for an exciting town expedition? The free VIRTULLEUM app recounts Tulln's 2000-year-old town history from a new perspective. It is based on 30 specific spots and 30 objects from 5 historic periods, including, for example, a Roman brick trowel and an early medieval brooch.

Embark on your own, individual town expedition!

This is how it's done ...

1

Download the VIRTULLEUM app to your smartphone or tablet, start the app and follow the instructions.

2

Roll the digital dice in the app. Alternatively, use real dice and enter the symbols of the toss into the app.

If you prefer to explore the stations without dice, enter the station number (see map on the reverse) into the app.

3

The app will take you to the VIRTULLEUM station of your choice – your individual town expedition can now begin.

School classes and groups can make an expedition together: one group member rolls the dice while the others enter the number into their devices.
